(A. F. NIGHT REPORT.)
LONDON, May 4, 4:30 a.m.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The Boers are everywhere retreating before the British, except on the Natal frontier and at Mafeking, to the inner circle of their defense. They appear determined not to fight until the Kroonstad hills are reached.
Lord Roberts is expected to do another forty or fifty miles, and then wait for a time in order to bring up supplies and repair the railway. There are one or two hints in the dispatches from the front that he may rest for a few days at Smalheide.
Gen. French's 10,000 cavalry have not been mentioned in the official or unofficial dispatches for four days. It is by no means likely that he is idle, and the conjecture is that he is either detouring toward Kroonstad or raiding the Ladysburg district.
Fifteen thousand British are now operating on the western frontier of the Free State. As the deadlock at Warrenton has been broken and the Boers are retreating, there is nothing formidable, except distance, between Warrenton and Mafeking.
The most hopeful advice from Mafeking of April 22 was that the garrison would be barely able to hold out for a month. At that time the Boers were spreading.
According to advices from Mafeking, Southland, several thousand Free State men are north of Ladysburg, where they have collected great herds. The district is rich in food for men and horses, and the Boers seem resolved not to move northward, but to be preparing to resist where they are. If they are let alone, they will be able to hold out for a long time. The line of communication after the main British army has passed into the Transvaal.
Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener personally directed the artillery in the Vet River engagement.
Queen Victoria will send a signed photograph to Col. Kekewich, the hero of Kimberley.

A CASE OF "BEFORE AND AFTER TAKING" THE PARIS EXPOSITION.

If the stories about the high prices are true, the American tourist, although he may start with "money to burn," will find himself "strapped" at the close of the Exposition.

DID A GREAT TURN.
Lord Roberts has been very strict in his examination of the farms, the result of disclosing the fact that nearly every house is a miniature arsenal. Munitions, machine guns, and other arms have been found. If these had not been discovered, the army would be leaving in its rear the material in arms and men for a dangerous move of the inhabitants.
All along the railroad, cultivators, wherever of any size, have been utterly destroyed, but the engineers hope to make a detour in some cases and in others they will fill up the gaps. Three of the four spans of the bridge have been utterly destroyed, and it will be necessary to take a temporary line down the river bed, as at the Modder. Reports have been heard this afternoon, showing that the British line of action before being destroyed northward.

PETITION MILE LONG.
GOES FROM WEST AUSTRALIA.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
LONDON, May 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A petition to the Queen from the residents of the West Australia gold fields, praying for separation from the earlier settled parts of West Australia, has arrived in London. It bears 25,000 signatures, and fills a mile of paper. It is inclosed in a handsome casket of polished Australian wood, which has a key made of Kalgoorlie gold.

SAVING HIS REAR.

Senate Holding Up the Canal Bill.

Pensions and Money for the Guard—The Boer War.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, May 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The Senate Committee on the Inter-Oceanic Canal today held its first meeting in regard to the bill which passed the House last week. The bill itself was not discussed very much, because there were other more interesting things to talk about. Senator Hanna was there, so was Senator Sewall, and they told the members of the committee that they did not believe the bill could pass at this season of the Senate, because things are not in proper shape for its passage. They said the treaty with England must be put into shape before work upon the canal can be started, and it was just as well to regulate this treaty matter before passing the bill, as after it.
It appears to be agreed upon all sides that next December, as soon as the Senate gets down to business, the treaty with England affecting the canal shall be disposed of first, and then the canal bill will be made the regular order of business until passed. There will be another meeting of the canal committee Wednesday morning, and something more definite may be given out then.

SENATE AND HOUSE.

PROPOSED RESOLUTIONS.
(A. F. NIGHT REPORT.)
WASHINGTON, May 7.—At today's session Mr. Teller of Colorado delivered a speech in which he strongly urged the Senate to endorse the treaty with the Boers in the contest with the British. The adoption of his resolution of sympathy, he maintained, could not be considered an unfriendly act by the British government.
During the remainder of the session the Senate had under consideration the Naval Appropriation Bill. Mr. Chandler's amendment to curtail the increase of the Marine Corps created some stir, and was finally laid on the table by 30 to 14. The bill was not completed. Notice was given that the armor-plating provision would be considered in secret session on account of certain facts that were to be called to the Senate's attention.
This was a suspension day in the House, and quite a number of bills were passed. The most important was the Senate bill to amend the general pension laws so as to provide for aggregating disabilities under the Act of 1890 without regard to service origin, and to increase the net income of a widow may have without destroying her right to a pension from the Government.
The bill to increase the appropriation for the National Guard from $40,000 to $1,000,000 also was among those passed.
Mr. Sulzer of New York attempted to secure action upon his resolution of censure against the House, but was cut off by the Speaker.

FIFTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION.
(A. F. NIGHT REPORT.)
WASHINGTON, May 7.—SENATE.
The Senate agreed to the request by the House for conference on the Army Appropriation Bill, and Senators Hawley, Sewall and Cockrell were named as conferees.
A conference was also agreed to for an agreement on the Purifications Bill. Senators Perkins, Warren and Pettigrew being named as conferees.
A bill declaring Everett, Wash., to be a port of entry in the Puget Sound customs district, was passed.
Mr. Teller of Colorado then recalled from the table his resolution expressing sympathy for the Boers, and addressed the Senate. He called attention to the fact that his resolution was a phrase of the Cuban plank of the Republican national platform in 1896. He was satisfied that it would be proper and right to pass such a resolution, and he quoted a number of precedents for such action by the Senate. He found a precedent for it in the resolution offered in the House of Representatives by Mr. Clayton of Kentucky, in 1891, in the interest of the South American republics, and in many subsequent resolutions of a similar character. If this resolution was objectionable to the Senate, he thought any resolution would be objectionable. Such an intervention as suggested could not be regarded as a hostile or unfriendly act.

RESOLUTION GOES OVER.

(A. F. NIGHT REPORT.)
WASHINGTON (D. C.) May 7.—"We ought," said Mr. Teller, "to declare our sympathies for the Boers. I have said nothing against the government of Great Britain and I do not intend to except to say I think the best sentiment of Great Britain and the United States is against this war. I believe that if the great and noble woman who presides over England had had her way, there would have been no war."
At the conclusion of Mr. Teller's

(A. F. DAY REPORT.)

LONDON, May 7.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The capture of Winburg by the British is confirmed, and the main advance to Pretoria continues with the statesmanlike precision and rapidity which has characterized all of Lord Roberts's forward movements. By the occupation of Winburg, Gen. Ian Hamilton puts himself nearly parallel with Lord Roberts, and only twenty-nine miles eastward, while he has the additional advantage of being connected with his chief by means of a railroad that runs from Smalheide for Winburg road station, as it is sometimes called. The only effect of the carefully-devised plan of general advance not disclosed by the swift developments of this part Gen. Buller has elected to take in the operations. At present there are no indications of any movement on the part of the Natal army. Doubtless a few days or less will bring out the British line of action before the Biggarsburg.
